City Buys Site For Landfill

Pickup Rate Is Increased

Cameron City Council at a special called meeting Monday night made arrangements to buy a 25-acre plot of land for a new sanitary landfill site.

The Council also took action to increase the price of garbage pickup 25 cents a month, from $1.75 to $2. The rate increase will take effect on May 1, with first billing to residents on June 1.

At the request of the Council, Mayor E. A. Perrin gave The Herald details about the new site and reasons for the garbage pickup rate increase.

The land, purchased from B. L. Franke, is located about three miles from City Hall, and is part of what was called "the old Gordon Baskin property," Mayor Perrin said. He added that it is a "very favorable location."

The site is expected to serve city needs for at least 12 years, Mayor Perrin said.

"It is with regret that the Council felt it is necessary to increase the garbage pickup rate," Perrin said.

"I think the public is aware of the new sanitary landfill method of disposing garbage," he said. This program necessitated the City's purchase of a bulldozer, at a cost of $33,000, to dig the trench in which garbage is placed at a depth of 10 feet.

Each day garbage is placed in the trench, compacted by the bulldozer running back and forth over it, and at the end of each day six inches of dirt is placed over all garbage dumped that day.

When the trench is filled, State law requires two feet of covering dirt be placed over the top layer and compacted.

"In addition to the cost of the bulldozer," the Mayor continued, "it was necessary to employ an operator for the machine. These added costs mean that the Sanitation Department must have more income in order to operate."

DISPOSAL HOURS

The new disposal area will be enclosed by a fence with a gate. The gate will be locked each evening at 5:30. No entrance

Court Sentence Draws Appeal

Two Cameron men remain on bond pending appeal of a two-year sentence assessed in Milam County District Court last week.

On April 8 a hearing was held in the District Court on the County Attorney's motion to revoke probation in the burglary cases against Leland Lyles and Michael Charles Maddox.

Evidence was heard from the State's and defense witnesses concerning the facts of a robbery which occurred near Buckholts on March 14, 1970, involving the two defendants.

On Friday, April 10, District Judge W. C. Wallace gave his decision in the case, ruling that the evidence was sufficient to revoke probation. The Court revoked probation in each case.

The Court also set aside the original judgments only in so far as the punishment was concerned and provided for reduction in punishment in each case to two years confinement in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Lyles and Maddox gave notice of appeal in open court through their attorney, Charles C. Smith Jr. They will remain on their present bonds pending appeal, County Atty. John Henderson Jr. said.

In other District Court action, Charlie Cruz of Rockdale was assessed a three-year probated sentence on April 8. Cruz pleaded guilty to the offense of forgery and passing a forged instrument. His conditions of probation included restitution to the injured party in the amount of $55.

In District Court on April 1, Roland Baca of Denver, Colo. pleaded guilty to the offense of felony theft and was assessed a two-year probated sentence.

The case involved the theft of a television set and a blanket from the Milam Motel on December 24, 1969. The stolen property was returned to the owner without loss, Henderson said.

Bell Office Addition Is Announced

Southwestern Bell Telephone announced that construction will begin in Mid-April on a new addition to the Cameron 697 telephone dial office building.

The addition is scheduled for completion in June and will add 27 by 53 feet to the west side of the present office building at the corner of North Travis and West First Streets, said C. L. Carson, manager for Southwestern Bell.

The one story addition will have masonry brick walls and will provide space for more central office equipment and future growth. The addition is necessary because of Cameron's increasing telephone needs, Carson said.

The general contractor is Talmage "Bucky" Willson of Belton.

MARTINEZ TAKES NARCOTICS COURSE

Cameron Police Sgt. Felipe Martinez completed a 40-hour training course on narcotics held last week at Central Texas College.

The Killeen college is conducting training classes in the Central Texas area for certification of law enforcement officers.

Police Chief John Shearin said the Cameron police department is equipped for testing drugs and narcotics.

Reported a fairly quiet weekend in the City, with most action coming from drunks.

Teletype Links Law

Milam County will have a direct line to State law officials with installation of a teletype system in the Milam County Sheriffs office on April 21.

The teletype will have a new automatic message switching at Austin and Bryan Department of Public Safety stations as well as the 150 other stations linked with the DPS teletype system.

A New Calendar For '70-71 School

A new school calendar, incorporating an additional five days of instruction, will go into effect for Cameron Public schools this fall.

August 26 will be the opening day of school instead of the traditional day after Labor Day. School will dismiss for the summer on May 27, 1971.

Texas schools are required to have 180 days of classroom instruction under legislation passed by the 61st Session of the Legislature, five more days than in the past.

If the kids fuss about starting school in August, they can look at it this way: teachers have to start even earlier -- on August 17 their in-service training sessions begin.

Christmas holidays will be a little shorter, beginning at 2:30 on December 22, but the holidays will be enjoyed more with midterm exams behind. The exams will be held on Dec. 21 and 22.

Classes will resume on January 5.

Following is the 1970 - 71 school calendar released by Supt. D. R. Dodson this week:

August 17-21 - Teachers in-service training, 8 a.m. - 4 p.m. August 24-25, same.

August 26 - First day of instruction

October 9 - End of first six weeks

October 12 - Start of second six weeks

November 20 - End of second six weeks

November 23 - Start of third six weeks

November 26 & 27 - Thanksgiving holidays

December 21 & 22 - Midterm exams. Third six weeks ends Dec. 22, and Christmas holidays start.

January 4 - Mid-semester in-service training for teachers.

January 5 - Start of fourth six weeks

February 19 - End of fourth six weeks

February 22 - Start of fifth six weeks

April 9-12 - Easter holidays

April 8 - End of fifth six weeks

April 13 - Start of sixth six weeks

May 13 - Yoe Day

May 27 - End of sixth six weeks

May 28 - Teachers in-service training

Graduation exercises will be set by the high school principal.

Labor Day, which is on Sept. 7 this year, will not be a school holiday.

GOP Will Hold May 2 Primary

Milam County Republicans are completing plans for holding a primary election on May 2, a Party leader has announced, and will have polling places in Cameron and Rockdale.

This year for the first time the GOP will be required to have a voting box for each of the county's commissioner precincts.

For Precincts 1 and 2, Buckholts and Cameron, the voting boxes will be in Cameron; Precincts 3 and 4, Rockdale and Thorndale, boxes will be located in Rockdale.

Arrangments for the polling places are now underway, the spokesman said, and will be announced before the primary. Any Milam County citizen who has registered is eligible to vote in the Republican primary, he said.

There will be no candidates for local or county office on the ballot here, he explained, since the GOP is concentrating its efforts on electing candidates to office in the senatorial, congressional and top statewide races.

Candidates listed on the ballot are:

For United States Senator: George Bush and Robert Morris; for Governor: Paul Eggers and Roger Martin; Lieutenant Governor: Byron Fullerton; Attorney General: Edward M. Yturri; Comptroller of Public Accounts: S. L. Abbott; State Treasurer: Robert F. Koennecke; Commissioner of General Land Office: Harry Trippet; and Commissioner of Agriculture: Daniel C. Heath.

111

With F.M.L.

It is a simple fact that the distance between people with a few ideas and people with practical realities is more than miles.

Einstein demonstrated distance, the way he thought, in terms of time. And that is the distance between our universities, our theology schools, our research centers and the people who support them.

Momentous change occurs daily in research and ideas and it is taking years to traverse idea ignition and popular "lift-off."

111 submits our institutional crises are due to a collapse of rapport between follower and leader. If half the world is to practice intelligent, day-to-day individuality, it must be prepared somehow recognize what change is necessary and how to adapt.

If that is not possible, then "predictors of doom", never having believed in themselves of the frail, but noble human race, will have their chaos.

Leadership cannot, finally, contain, let alone change the human condition from some Olympus, whether Athens, New Haven or Berkley. Students are quick to rebel against the attraction of Nobel Laureates when graduate assistants run the classes.

Nor can the finest mind lead when his only forte is in the classroom or the manuscript. He can take a good look, however, to see what transpires. He can unbend.

111 suggests only that an inquiring mind of today need know more of what he interprets and influences, realizing the average man or the average student is not a random test case, subject to mass injection into social statistica.

Perhaps a good analogy is how military leadership is developed. The military is a knowledgable, practical life.

Bright young men by the thousands each year vie to enter the various service academies, where the best tested receive the nation's finest exposure to practical, higher education.

And where do these bright future leaders go, upon graduation? To serve in fleet operations, to fly jets, to command line units in combat, to move from field to university to command until they reach their level of ability.

Where do the professorial types, even activists who command public followings go? Usually to the laboratory and the classroom, the library archives. Often the nearest they get to application is the rocket scientist who watches, like Werner Von Braun the other day, Apollo 13 leave Cape Kennedy for a third moon landing.

The average man knows change is all about, but not what it is all about. He has not been told enough--straight enough--of his religion, of his government, of his social and historical derivation. He is at the narrowing of the "hour glass" where grains sift from a reservoir above to an emptiness filling below. And he sees little of either as sand sprinkles past.

And when he erupts--as minorities erupt today-- he merely overturns the hour glass in blind revolution, to see the process, the sprinkling of grains from a new top to a new bottom, slowly filling. He knows, intuitively that tipping "time" on its side smothers, and wishes somehow he could see more in his time.

This is why inquiry and practice should meld at the narrows, at the frailest point, where practice is the idea, new and alive, uncrusted by withdrawal, unpseudo-sophisticated by "image makers."

It is an impossibility, we are assured, but worth a try.

County Gain Road, LPG 12" Pipeline

County commissioners Monday adopted a resolution to accept deed to 19.8 acres of land including a road, from Aluminum Company of America. The road extends from the Rockdale Country Club to the Alcoa plant.

The new road, built by Alcoa, was exchanged for a former county road in Precinct 3 and will be maintained by the county, Judge O. B. Harden said.

Commissioners also granted permission for Santa Fe Pipeline Co. to construct a 12 inch LPG pipeline across roads in North Milam County with an understanding that roads will be repaired and the pipeline cased under the road between Crossroads and Baileyville.

Commissioners also approved results of the County School Trustee election and trustee elections at Buckholts, Gause, Milano and Maysfield.

STAMPS QUARTET

The Stamps Quartet will appear in concert at the Milano High School gym Thursday (tonight) at 8 p.m. Proceeds from the show will go to the Milano Booster Club. The Stamps Quartet, organized in 1924, is one of the most traveled gospel singing groups in the U.S.

'Low Down' Joins Herald Columns

Your Cameron Herald introduces a new column on the editorial page in this edition: "Low Down" from the Congressional Record.

Written by Joe Crump, it scans the voluminous "Congressional Record" about remarks, controversy and information "on the record".

It is a nationally sydicated column, each containing "a grassroots comment" by Crump.

Congressmen and Senators can enter information in the "Record" that actually is not heard in speeches from the floor of the House or Senate. This fact encourages The Herald's presentation of a incisive sampling of "Congressional Record" for comments and data unfamiliar, except to close readers of the "Record", even to elected officials and their staffs.

Your Herald hopes you enjoy this added feature and invites your comments.

LA DANZA de los Viejitos dancers will perform at the Cameron Folk Fete June 13 in Indian style costume. The young dancers will depict the story of the Indians realization that their Spanish conquerors were mere men who grew old like themselves and not immortal as they first believed.

Dances Of Mexico

Folk Fete Looks South

Mexican and Spanish folk dances will be part of the Folk Fete to be held in Cameron June 12 and 13. Performing the dances will be eighteen dancers between the ages of 5 and 21 who are students of Mrs. Joe Meachum of Temple.

The dances to be presented in Cameron were selected to tell the history of Mexico, beginning with "La Danza delos Viejitos" (The Dance of the Old Man). Miss Mary Lucy Barcenas, chairman of the Spanish dance section, said this dance tells the story of the Indians discovery that the Spaniards were not immortal, but grew old and ill as their people did.

The Mexican folk dancers, all in authentic costume, will join a program of folk dances of Germany, Italy and American western to be presented at Yoe Field June 13.

The Folk theme will also be carried out in craft and food concessions, bands and decorations.

Mrs. Perry Holder, co-chairman of the Folk Fete said enthusiasm for the Cameron event was growing each week. She said food and craft concessions were being reserved at City Park and at the grounds of the Cameron Public Library. This is expected to be a popular place for Folk Fete visitors.

Western, Czech and 'mod' bands will play in the park pavilion while concession booths are open. The pavilion will also be decorated for the folk fete weekend.

Also drawing more attention as the 'Folk Fete' nears is a beauty pageant and historical pageant scheduled for Friday, June 12 at Yoe Field.

Miss Mary Belle Batte has written and will direct the pageant depicting Milam County history. Cast for the pageant, now in rehearsal, will include more than 100 Cameron school children. Miss Batte is being assisted by Mrs. Grover McCullin.

Mrs. Holder said the beauty pageant in conjunction with the Friday night program was not a contest, but a part of the Folk Fete program with representatives of each section of the county and each ethnic group.

REGIONAL DRESS worn by Yolanda Palomino will be a colorful addition to the June 13 Folk Dance Program at Yoe Field. Miss Palomino will be featured in a traditional dance of Mexico.

What Children Read . . .

Author Isaac Bashevis Singer accepted a National Book award in children's literature recently, for his book called "A Day of Pleasure."

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch notes his acceptance remarks:

" 'There are 500 reasons why I began to write for children but to save time I will mention only 10 of them:

" 'No. 1: Children read books, not reviews: They don't give a hoot about the critics.

" '2: They don't read to find their identity.'

" '3. They don't read to free themselves of guilt, to quench the thirst for rebellion or to get rid of alienation.

" '4. They have no use for psychology.

" '5. They detest sociology.

" '6. They don't try to understand Kafka or 'Finegan's Wake.'

" '7. They still believe in God, the family, angels, devils, witches, goblins, logic, clarity, punctuation and other such obsolete stuff.

" '8. They love interesting stories, not commentary, guides or footnotes.'

" '9. When a book is boring, they yawn openly without any shame or fear of authority.

" '10. They don't expect their beloved writer to redeem humanity. Young as they are, they know that it is not in his power. Only the adults have such childish illusions.' "

Call A Spade Something . . .

A spade is a spade, as the old saying goes. But you'd never know it to read a Defense Department publication which uses the term "combat emplacement evacuator" when the simple term "shovel" would do just as well.

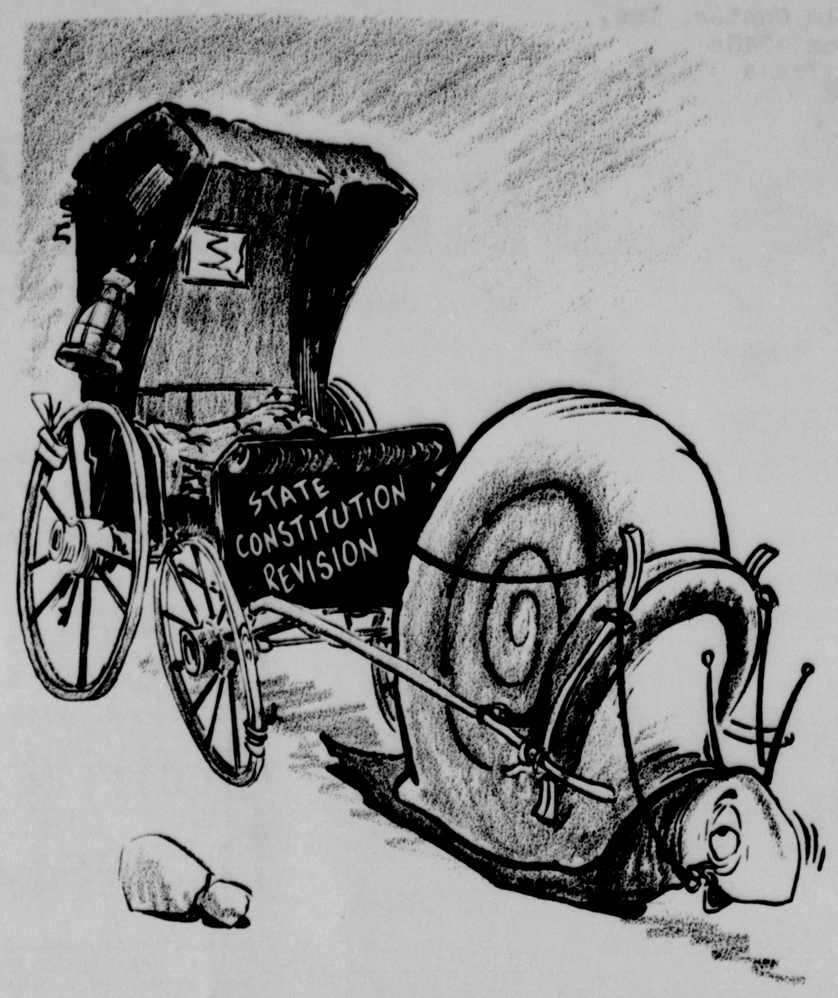

Or take the Air Force. It keeps a lot of parachutes in stock, but that's not what it calls them. They're "aerodynamic personnel decelerators."

Then there's the Bureau of Public Roads, which refers to "impact attenuation devices" when it means oil drums that are placed around highway obstructions.

These are just a few examples of gobbledygook unearthed by Representative Richard Poff of Virginia, who says that if the Nixon administration accomplishes nothing else, it could improve the citizen's understanding and respect for his government by requiring bureaucrats to talk in plain terms and to abandon the foreign language they've been speaking.

As the State Department might put it, his submonition is unexpectable. In plain, four-letter English, that means it's a good idea.

"RELAX, THESE THINGS TAKE TIME"

Welfare Costs May Rise Under New Medicaid Bill

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

State Welfare costs may go up sharply next year if Congress passes a new Medicaid bill.

State Senate Committee on Welfare Reform heard estimates that Medicaid amendments alone will require at least $25.9 million in additional state outlays during the coming biennium.

Burton G. Hackney, State Welfare Commissioner, predicts President Nixon's Family Assistance Plan of legislation might cost Texas a minimum of $22 million more each year and double the number of children on state aid rolls.

Senate committee heard estimates that Medicaid changes will add more than $6.2 million to the state's obligations for the present biennium.

While welfare officials are now optimistic over being able to continue present program levels until the next legislative sessions, they will, at best, be in debt $13.5 million come January. That's the amount Gov. Preston Smith transferred to welfare from medical school construction funds to head off the scheduled April 1 cut in payments to the needy.

If rough estimates presented the committee are correct, the legislature will be looking at an increase of $70 million for new programs during the next fiscal period--not to mention another $20 million "catch-up" money carrying over from the current biennium.

If Congress places mental retardation under new limitations for inpatient services, the state could end up with another $9 million a year in new obligations, plus $8.2 million in unexpected expenses for the present fiscal period.

SCHOOL FUND

Largest single piece of income for the Texas permanent school fund, $139 million, has been assured. After 11 months of discussion, School Land Board accepted a unitization agreement on the huge new sulphur deposit found in Culberson County by the Duval Corporation of Houston. Deposit is the second largest in the world. It contains 81 million long tons of sulphur. Agreement involves the drilling of 6,000 wells.

High bids on public school land oil and gas leases totaled $3.1 million, representing an average of $36.84 an acre. Twenty-two per cent of the acreage sold was in El Paso and Hudspeth counties. Land lying in Loving and Ward counties brought a bid of $120,006, topping all others.

Second highest bid of $113,040 was on a 1,440-acre tract of submerged coastal lands in Jefferson County.

Third highest was $110,053 for 411 acres in Reeves County.

Receipts from the sale boosted the permanent school fund to $839.6 million, for total increase of nearly 86 per cent in last decade.

COURTS SPEAK

Third Court of Civil Appeals held the 1969 law giving tobacco distributors 15 days to pay for cigarette tax stamps is constitutional, but State Treasurer Jesse James said he will appeal.

State Supreme Court refused the request of Fred Williams, Houston, to force Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler to make public verterans' land loan applicants.

In other actions the Supreme Court:

*Set May 6 arguments on liability of an insecticide firm for damages in the death of a Colorado County child who swallowed bug spray.

*Held there was no conspiracy in an alleged breach of contract involving a fishing fleet and an Ecuadorian seafood pack plant.

*Refused to review a Dallas furniture company's challenge of the Sunday closing law.

AG RULINGS

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin says, in an opinion requested by Wiley L. Cheatham of Cuero, that a Justice of the Peace may conduct court on criminal cases on Sundays. He added that he also could enter judgements and sentences and collect fines on Sundays.

In another opinion, Martin ruled that Commissioners Courts may enter into contract with the U.S. to administer job training programs under a concentrated employment project.

GRANTS MADE

Office of Child Development grant of $208,594 in new federal funds went to Bee County Community Council for Head Start school programs in Beeville, Goliad and Pettus.

A federal recreation grant of $126,800 has been approved for acquisition of 15.5 acres of land to enlarge Pasadena's Memorial Park.

Governor approved an $11,250 regional planning assistance state grant to Ark-Tex Council of Governments, Texarkana, and a $22,190 planning grant to El Paso C.O.G.

CARE OF ROSES

Interest in rose gardening often wanes during the hot summer because of the decline in flower quality. But, says Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist, don't neglect roses during the summer if you want beautiful flowers during the fall and early winter months.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

I know that talking about the farm problem these days in the midst of city problems, world problems and planetary pollution is about like trying to get a specialist on in-grown toenails on the same program with a panel of heart transplant specialists, but according to some articles I've been reading lately in every newspaper that turns up out here on the Johnson grass farm, somebody ought to be paying attention to it.

It's on account of the balance of nature.

As all these articles have been pointing out, it is necessary to keep an ecological balance on this earth if we want to keep it tuned up and running right. Every species has its part to play in the total balance of nature.

Well now as everybody knows, farmers, who used to constitute 70 per cent of the population, have now dwindled to around 8 per cent and the figure is still going down. This ought to concern people, but in the cry to protect nature's balance have you heard one word said about preserving farmers?

You mean to say it isn't as important to keep farmers on earth as it is mountain lions, bald eagles and whooping cranes?

The ecologists are right, we've got to keep nature in balance, no telling the horror otherwise, but some of them ought to get concerned about the disappearing farmer.

As you well know, man fooled around and got careless years and years ago and let the dinosaurs become extinct, and everybody knows the world has never been the same since.

I'm warning you, people may think it doesn't make any difference, may even find it impossible to name a single farmer the world couldn't get along without, may claim that losing him is no more important to ecology than throwing one beer can out your car window is to pollution, but you let them all disappear, let this become a farmer-less world, and eventually you'll notice the difference.

If nature didn't have some purpose for farmers, why were they created? You can ask the same question about editors.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

WAIT 10 WEEKS BEFORE WRITING IRS ON REFUND

Ten weeks from the date a Federal income tax return calling for a refund is mailed, the taxpayer either has his check or a letter explaining why it is held up, R. L. Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue in Austin, said today.

Millions of tax returns are handled every filing season at the IRS Service Center which serves the eight-state South - western Region. The volume of processing operations there makes it practically impossible for IRS to locate a particular return and to answer any question about it until processing is complete.

For this reason, a taxpayer who has not heard about his refund should wait 10 weeks before writing IRS. By waiting this length of time, most taspayers will find their inquiry unnecessary.

If it should become necessary to write, the taxpayer should indicate where and when he filed his return and give his name, address and Social Security number, Phinney stated.

LETTERS—

Dear Mr. Luecke:

In 1970 Texas advertising to stimulate greater in-state tourism will take advantage of the theme line:

"Texas! land of contrast."

All public service media materials will tie-in with this strong proposition both visually, orally and in copy. We are certain, with your generous support, to persuade an even larger number of Texans to vacation within their state and convince out-of-state visitors to see more of Texas while they are here.

On behalf of Governor Smith, our board of advisors and myself, I should like to express our deep appreciation for your continued support throughout the year for one of Texas' most important industries. . .tourism. In 1969 the total estimated tourist expenditure amounted to more than $1.5 billion. No state endeavoring to attract in-state vacationing and out-of-state tourists can be successful without the public service support of private enterprise.

Attached you will find a postage paid postcard for your convenience when ordering the subjects and quantity of materials you require. The selection of subjects is broad to excite the audience to the fact that Texas is truly a land of contrast.

Please let me have any comments you wish to make regarding the advertising materials.

Thank you for your help.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE COMING

The subject of national insurance is a "sleeper." It's getting very little publicity. No weekly column can adequately cover all the details of Senator Pell's Bill S.3634. We refer you to Congressional Record Vol. 116, No. 47, pages S4481-90 for the complete text.

We quote Senator Claiborne Pell (R.I.):

"I introduce for appropriate reference a bill to amend and extend section 394 of the Public Health Service Act which is to be cited as the "NATIONAL HEALTH CARE SYSTEMS STUDY RESEARCH AND DEMONSTRATIONS ACT of 1970. . .

"The bill I introduce today is designed to insure that the national health program, which Dr. Steinfeld (U. S. Surgeon General), like myself, believes is inevitable, is a "good one". . .

"The National Health Care Systems Study, Research and Demonstrations Act of 1970 provides for the extension and increased authorizations for the experiments and research which the Surgeon General believes is necessary to prepare for an eventual national health insurance program. . .

"If the report I call for is properly developed, the Congress will be able not only to debate the merits of a national health program in a rational manner, but it will enable the various committees of Congress concerned with health to legislate with a wider perspective in a harmonious manner proper to each committee's jurisdiction. . ."

We offer excerpts from a question and answer session between Senator Pell and Dr. Jesse Steinfeld, U.S. Surgeon General:

SENATOR PELL. –"Do you agree that the United States should implement a national health insurance plan in 1970?"

SURGEON GENERAL: –"It seems to me, speaking as an individual, that we are moving toward a national health insurance program, and it is our duty to be ready for it in terms of not only the capacity to provide the services but in terms of the administrative mechanisms to have an efficient program. I feel that it is imperative for us to begin both such experiments and pilot programs as soon as possible."

SENATOR PELL: –"What steps should be taken to encourage a greater emphasis on preventive care services, such as neighborhood health centers, in the United States?"

SURGEON GENERAL: –"All of our programs should emphasize preventive care much more than we now do. It may require the addition of new courses in medical school curricula, and in many or all paramedical education institutions. We may even need a new type of professional, but it seems to me that not only should our professionals be stimulated in this regard but our financing devices such as medicare and medicaid should be remoulded so as to reward those who can utilize preventive medicine rather than the much more expensive hospitalization approach. . ."

* * * * *

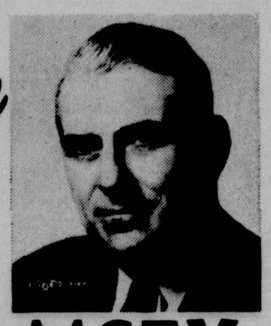

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

National health insurance is coming. The emphasis will be on preventive medicine.

The guaranteed hourly wage, union demands and the high cost of diagnostic equipment has skyrocketed hospital costs. Most health programs provide payment only when the patient is hospitalized. The physician has no choice but to hospitalize the patient, and the medical bill soars

Diagnostic work accomplished with the patient in a non-hospitalized status is fast becoming a must. Neighborhood health centers for this purpose appears to be in order.-J.C

Hangover cure.

Nobody likes a sloppy range. Especially if it's a result of hangover heat.

After all, heat that hangs on after your range is turned off isn't your fault. But you have to clean up after it.

However, gas ranges turn on and off instantly. No heat's left over to scorch your food, burn your pans or cause food to boil over.

Buy a new gas range, sure-cure for hangover heat.

Questions About Onions, Ponds

By J. D. Moore

What is causing my onions to make seed heads? This condition is referred to as "bolting" and is the result of a warm fall followed by a cool spring. When seedstalks are produced, the bulbs will not cure properly, will not meet minimum requirements for U. S. grades and therefore, represent a loss to commercial growers.

Temperature and length of day are controlling factors in the successful production of onions. For best growth and bulb formation, onions require cool weather early in the growing season with moderately high temperatures and relatively low humidity later on for proper ripening.

The best root development occurs when the soil temperature range is from 54 to 68. The most rapid growth of tops occurs at temperatures of 68 to 70 F., and these temperatures need to prevail during the early part of the growing season.

Temperatures of 70 to 80 are favorable for bulb development when day length is also favorable for a given variety. At 50 to 60 F. bulbs will not be formed regardless of length of day.

VEGETATION IN FARM PONDS

Many requests are received for information on the control of growth in farm ponds.

Porper farm pond management is important since a balance of plant and fish life is important.

Steps should be taken during April and May to control vegetation before the water becomes hot. A good supply of oxygen is absolutely necessary for good fish production.

Growth of rooted plants and filamentous algae can decrease the effectiveness of fertilizer and in many cases reduce fish yields. Kill undersirable aquatic plants before beginning a fertilization program.

Karmex has given good weed control in local ponds when used at the rate of 1 to 11/2 lbs of actual material per surface acre of water.

It is very important to correctly determine the surface area of water and use no more than recommended rates. Fish loss may occur if excessive Karmex is used.

Treat the pond now and use a fertilizer program in about 2 weeks. Further instructions are available at the county agents office.

4-H NEWS -

By Fred Schuetze

4-H Broiler Projects - The broilers handed out on March 20 are now three weeks old and they are progressing at a tremendous rate. This is the second most important stage in the development of these birds.

All birds should still be on the broiler starter ration and should remain on the starter for at least two to three more weeks.

The birds are starting to feather and it is very important that they receive all the air possible on the warm days, but they still need protection and heat on the cool cloudy days and cool nights.

The more air they receive the better they will feather and this is just as important as fleshing.

I am making the rounds this week. Checking all birds and handing out record information that you will need to keep and turn in the day of the show. The best set of records will receive a certificate.

MYSTERY FARM - Whose place is this? The aerial photo, taken in 1958, shows a Milam County farm outlined in spring sunshine, with plowed garden rows, and a few cattle eyeing greener grass outside the gap. If you recognize the place as yours, you may have the photo. It's at The Herald office, along with several others.

Wheat, Feed Grain Price Support Revision Told

Legislation revising the existing wheat and feed grain price support programs was approved last week by the Livestock and Grains Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture, according to Cong. W. R. Poage.

The vote was 9 to 8.

The legislative draft is not intended to be enacted into law as a separate measure, but will be incorporated as a provision of a general farm bill dealing with various other commodities. The overall farm bill would replace the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 which expires at the end of this year.

Major provisions of the legislation just approved by the subcommittee:

1. Authorizes a 3-year program.

2. Requires the Secretary of Agriculture to set the loan on wheat and feed grains at not less than 80 percent nor more than 100 percent of the estimated average world price, after considering export and potential domestic surpluses.

3. Provides a $2.77 per bushel guarantee on domestic wheat. Payments would be made reflecting the difference between the average market price received by farmers for five months (first five months of crop marketing year) and $2.77. (On both wheat and feed grains the payment formula is similar to provisions of the exisiting wool program.)

4. For feed grains, it provides a guarantee of not lessthan $1.35 per bushel on corn (on 50 percent of the feed grain base) to be made through payments reflecting the difference between the average market price received by farmers for five months and $1.35. Payment rates for grain sorghum and barley would be set at rates fair and reasonable in relation to the corn payment rate.

5. Requires the Secretary to make (after July 1) a preliminary payment to participating wheat and feed grain farmers of 75 percent of the total estimated payment. The balance of the payment due participating farmers would be made after the five-month period following the beginning of the marketing year. (i.e., March for corn and grain sorghum; December for barley and wheat).

6. Provides for the use of only two criteria in establishing the price support of grain sorghums in relation to corn: relative feeding value, and average transportation costs to market grain sorghum.

The action of the subcommittee actually amends language in a committee print issued March 23 relating to wheat and feed grain provisions adopted earlier by the subcommittee. Several amendments were offered by Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla., who said they were suggested by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin. They were voted on en bloc and approved by a 9 to 8 vote, the same division as occurring on the final vote.

ASCS News

By Alva E. Sanders

Farmers are reminded that the "no-grazing" period for land diverted from production under the 1970 Wheat and Feed Grain Programs will start May 1. It will continue for the following five months until October 1.

Producers who are diverting land under the programs have agreed not to graze the land being diverted during a specific 5-month period of the growing season and not to harvest a crop from the land at any time during the year.

Farmers are also cautioned about the kind of land they intend to divert under such programs.

Payments for a farm will be reduced where the County Committee determines that the cropland set aside for diverted acres under the program is substantially less productive than the average cropland normally used to produce the crop.

In such a case, the farm operator will first be given an opportunity and urged to designate other land of at least average productivity for diversion under the program. If this is not done, program payments will be reduced in proportion to the lower yields which could reasonably be expected from the acreage diverted.

Any reduction indicated in the payment otherwise earned by the farmer would be subtracted, as applicable, from the farm diversion, the price-support, and the certificate payment -- in that order.

This does not apply to the 1970 Upland Cotton Program for there is no required diverted acreage for this program, but to be eligible for acreage credit for history and payment purposes, all acreage must be planted in a workmanlike manner and cared for with the expectation of producing a normal crop.

NEW PROGRAM SEEKS BOOST IN AG INCOME

"3.76 in '76"---Slogan for an all-out effort to increase agricultural income in Texas by $1 billion by the end of the 1976 crop year is expected to become well known throughout the state.

The program is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and County Program Building Committees will play a major role in developing the county programs.

Total Texas agricultural income is now approximately $2.76 billion. The program is specifically planned to close the gap between average and potential yields of all economically important agricultural commodities produced in the state, said Extension Director John E. Hutchison, in announcing the program.

Nation To Mark Law Day

Washington, D.C.

Every citizen has the duty to abide by the law and to accept its responsibilities, President Richard Nixon says in his official proclamation designating May 1, 1970, as Law Day USA.

The President reminded Americans that this year will mark the Nation's thirteenth annual observance of Law Day and that the day has been set aside by Congress as a "special day for reaffirming our loyalty to the United States and rededicating ourselves to the rule of law."

The proclamation then added: "The benefits that have come to each of us as individuals and to all of us as Americans through our adherence to the rule of law are endless. It is through the processes of law that our Nation has achieved its amazing growth and development in every sphere of human endeavor.

"The law does not rule by itself. Citizens administer it; and each citizen must abide by its constraints and accept its responsibilities if the rights, freedoms, opportunities, and protections of all citizens are to be guarded."

The theme for the 1970 observance of Law Day USA is: "Law Bridge to Justice".

Law Day USA was inaugurated by Presidential Proclamation in 1958, and in 1961 Congress by joint resolution established the annual observance as a special day to remind all Americans of the rights and responsibilities of citizenship.

HELP KEEP TEXAS CITIES BEAUTIFUL

It's easy to think of littering as something that happens on the highway; but it is an unsanitary, unsightly and expensive problem in our cities, too.

Many times our city streets are littered by people who simply don't realize that they are littering...

Do-It-Yourself Mosquito Control

Extra bonus for prompt action on your part! Yours absolutely free--well, almost free--a premise with no mosquitoes.

You can have this mosquito-free home and yard if you'll spend just a little of your time in a do-it-yourself vector control program, says the Texas State Department of Health.

In addition to eliminating mosquitoes, you also can free your premises of flies and rodents with a little extra precaution. The cost can be just a little effort on your part.

Spring is the time of year when mosquitoes start breeding. So take an inventory of your property. Walk around the outside of the house and take a good look. What do you see? Did you notice whether the gutters were level and not sagging? Mosquitoes like to breed in the water that collects in sagging or stopped up gutters. Just a few minutes time on your part will eliminate this breeding site.

How many bottles, cans, tires, or other water-holding containers are partially hidden under the shrubs? These provide more breeding places for mosquitoes.

You may be surprised to know that most people grow the mosquitoes that bite them. Since most of the water-holding containers are valueless, again it is a simple matter to place them in the garbage pick up.

Should you have a container you want to keep, place it in a shed so it won't collect water.

Mosquitoes won't breed on your premise if you don't leave any water standing around. If there's a knothole in one of your trees, it can be plugged with cement mortar, roffing tar, or anything that will keep the water out.

If you have pets, develop a routine of washing the watering bowl a couple of times a week. And while you are at it, you should clean the birdbath the same number of times. This will also keep the growth of algae down and tend to do away with that ugly green, slimy look.

Since mosquitoes always develop in water, it would be well to stock your fish pond or lily pond with gambusia (top-water minnows) or goldfish. The fish will eat the wiggletails.

Anything you can do to eliminate mosquitoes will be to your advantage since the insects are a nuisance and can cause disease.

Epoxy resin is the most powerful adhesive known. After being cooled to -450° C. it can withstand a pull of 8,000 lbs. per square inch.

A&M Dean To Speak At Milam Aggie Muster

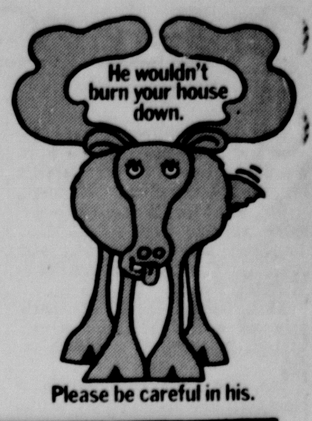

Former students of Texas A&M in Milam County will Muster April 21 to mark the passing of comrades and honor them.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting will be held at the Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron, reports Muster Chairman, Stanley J. Glaser of Buckholts.

The Aggie Muster began April 21, 1903 and has been held annually ever since - - wherever A&M men might find themselves on that day. Aggies have mustered on board ship, in foxholes on the battlefield, in the Swiss Alps, in airplanes, and even on Corregidor, shortly before the Japanese captured the island in World War II. More than 500 Musters will be held around the world this year, including several in Vietnam. For some A&M men, this will be their last Muster.

Guest speaker for this year's Muster will be Dr. Richard C. Potts, Asst. Dean of Agriculture at Texas A&M University.

Tickets for the Muster may be obtained from any of the following officers Stanley J. Glaser of Buckholts, president, Kenneth Smith of Rockdale, vice president, Tommy Chamberlain of Cameron, secretary, Monroe Fuchs of Cameron, treasurer, and Leon Noack of Rockdale, athletic representative; or from the following directors: Newton Butts of Thorndale, James E. Glaser of Buckholts, Shelby Smith of Milano, Albert Timmerman and W. F. Saage of Rockdale, and J. D. Moore and Jack Tumlinson of Cameron.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

PTA's vs Drug Abuse

All over the country, Parent Teacher Associations have taken up the challenge of drug abuse and are doing something about it.

Their work is part of a newly invigorated national attack upon narcotic and dangerous drug abuse. The President and his Administration are concentrating much effort upon this massive problem.

As a part of its role in the nationwide endeavor, the National Institute of Mental Health seeks to make widely available to everyone the known facts about drug abuse, the current state of drug research, and the best thinking about ways of combatting the serious dangers of drug abuse among youth.

One important way of disseminating this information is through the cooperation of the Nation's PTAs since the PTAs are deeply concerned about the misuse of drugs and are convinced that education is one of the best preventive measures.

For some time, the PTA has been engaged in a nationwide project on children's emotional health, in which NIMH aids. Education about drug abuse has become a natural component of such a project.

To assist, the NIMH prepared a kit of drug abuse information at the recommendation of the National PTA through its special committee on education about alcohol and drug abuse.

The kit contains five leaflets, a reprint of an article from "The PTA Magazine," and a series of public service advertisements. Copies of the kit were widely distributed to PTA Presidents for use in their own programs.

A Perky, Puffy Main Dish

Instant whipped potatoes provide built-in convenience for making this picture-pretty Whipped Potato-Spinach Puff. The delicate flavor blend of instant whipped potatoes and chopped spinach accented with onion and Parmesan cheese makes a perfect luncheon or dinner course. Round out the menu with flaky biscuits and a crisp green salad.

The perky puff comes from the Borden Kitchen and is light and airy. Like its relative the souffle, it should be served as soon as it emerges from the oven.

Whipped Potato-Spinach Puff
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

- 6 tablespoons grated 100% Parmesan cheese
- 1½ to 1⅔ cups (1 section of 5½-oz. pkg.) Borden Instant Whipped Potatoes
- 1 tablespoon minced shallots or green onion
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 (10 oz.) package frozen chopped spinach, cooked, drained
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper

Butter 1½-quart souffle dish; sprinkle with 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese. Prepare potatoes according to package directions. In small-size skillet, heat shallots in butter over low heat, until lightly browned. Remove from heat. Add egg yolks, singly, to potatoes; beat well after each addition. Stir in shallots, spinach, salt and pepper. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Stir one quarter of beaten egg whites and 3 tablespoons Parmesan cheese into spinach-potato mixture. Fold in remaining egg whites; turn mixture into prepared dish. Sprinkle remaining one tablespoon Parmesan cheese over top. Bake in preheated hot (400°F.) oven for 5 minutes. Reduce heat to 375°F.; bake 40 to 50 minutes.

Asparagus On Spring Foods List

Fresh asparagus at moderate prices has hit produce counters, says Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist with Texas A&M University.

Other fresh produce at the economical prices includes oranges, grapefruit, apples, bananas, pears, carrots, potatoes, head lettuce, celery, cabbage, dry yellow onions, radishes and green onions.

Mrs. Clyatt suggests buying these foods this week to help save on the food bill.

At meat counters, look for best beef values this week on calf and beef liver, round steaks and roasts, chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef and short ribs.

Pork values include picnics and end cut loin roasts and chops, shoulder roasts and steaks.

Fryer chickens remain an excellent bargain in most meat departments and grade A large eggs offer the best value in eggs.

Nests are always the first to go. Please use fire carefully.

INTEREST GROWS

The upsurge in swine production in Texas has brought on new questions about housing. W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer, says many producers are constructing buildings with slotted floors over pits for waste collection with good results. A properly built system permits waste management in accordance with legal regulations and at a cost operators can afford, he adds. Local county agents can supply needed construction information.

Gay Orange Cake Brightens Menu, Graces Dinner Table

To keep in step with spring, let the table bloom with a fragrant orange dessert cake. Create a festive air with this cake containing dates and nuts and glazed with orange syrup. Serve warm and bask in the praise that follows.

For tender crumbs and unexcelled texture every time, home economist Reba Staggs of the National Live Stock and Meat Board recommends using lard for the shortening.

Orange Blossom Date Cake

2 cups sifted flour
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup lard
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup sour milk
½ cup chopped dates
½ cup chopped nuts
½ cup orange juice
⅔ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Sift together flour, salt, soda and baking powder. Cream lard and 1 cup sugar together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add sifted ingredients alternately with sour milk, mixing well after each addition. Stir in dates and nuts. Pour batter into greased 9-inch square cake pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 25 to 30 minutes, until inserted cake tester comes out clean. Cool about 5 minutes. Loosen edges, invert cake on rack, remove from pan and turn cake onto plate so it is top side up. Combine orange juice, ⅔ cup sugar and rind and heat to boiling. Pour over warm cake. Serve warm with whipped cream or dairy sour cream, if desired.

Simple Shelves Clear Laundry

A utility room with plenty of built-ins to hold and hide supplies is a desirable thing, but where space is lacking, some simple shelving will erase the clutter curse.

It's an easy matter to run two shelves along the wall above the appliances. The top one should be large enough to store the bigger packages of soap powders and bleach. The lower one can have less height and still take care of measuring cups, starch, blueing and the like.

Twelve-inch boards may be installed on wall brackets or adjustable standards and brackets. To add doors, use ready-made louvers or hinge lengths of matching boards cut to fit the shelf height.

CONSERVATION PROJECT for Pack 788 is demonstrated at Tejas District Boy Scout Fair, Cameron National Guard Armory, Saturday by Stephen Noak. The day-long Fair attracted about 800 visitors to see the Boy Scout program in action.

Allowances Increased For GI Bill

More than 777,000 veterans, servicemen, wives, widows and children will receive increased educational allowances under a bill signed by the President.

All trainees under the GI Bill and other VA educational programs were assured by Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, that they will receive the increases automatically and retroactive to February 1. He stressed that it is not necessary to contact the VA to receive them.

Johnson said most of those studying under the GI Bill in institutions of higher learning will receive one check about May 10, which will reflect the new regular monthly rate, and include retroactive increases from February through April.

Veterans studying below college level, including apprentice, on-the-job and cooperative trainees, must certify their attendance to the VA every month to be eligible for education allowance payments.

The VA Administrator said this group also will receive one check around May 10, at the new rates, including the retroactive increases, providing their attendance has been certified through April.

However, the VA officla explained that some trainees below college level will receive pay adjustments in two checks, because the VA will not receive their monthly attendance certifications in time to include the increase in the first check.

The VA chief said that veterans training under the vocational rehabilitation program will receive their increased educational allowances in early June.

Information on this group is not computerized and all processing will have to be done individually, requiring more time, he explained.
